Hart Honors Baseball Heroes of its Past

EDDIE SADIWA/The Signal
 Above, nine of the 10 living members of the 1950 Hart baseball team, the first-ever Indian team to capture a league title, reunite at the Annual Hart Alumni Baseball Game, Saturday. While the game was cancelled due to rain, Hart still carried on with a tribute to the 1950 team and its Wall of Fame induction Ceremony. Left, Dick Louis, class of 1957, shakes the hand of Hart coach Jim Ozella as he receives a plaque that commemorates his induction into the Wall of Fame. Louis was inducted along with Chris Baker, class of 1995, and Jack Uhey, class of 1974. Louis is the longtime public address announcer for Hart baseball, while Uhey works as a scout for the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim and Baker is currently a AA pitcher in the Blue Jays organization.
