This year the Varsity Baseball Team battled against high winds, cold weather and rough opponents. The whole team hung together and came through with flying colors. Their spirits remained high whether they were winning or losing. They accepted victory and defeat with equanimity. The coach, although he worked the team very hard, was still respected and loved by them all. He helped them learn from their mistakes as well as their victories. At the end of the season the team learned to work together as one instead of nine. The crowd stayed with them all the way, either huddled in blankets or basking in the sun.

Top Right: Ray Festa shows his fantastic growl bunting style. Above: Coach Hammond gives a smile. Center: Steve Haskell lays another one into center field against Crescenta Valley. Opposite: Don Nunez, Steve Knaggs, Ron Stewart, Merle Taylor, Nik Kadel, and Steve West (not pictured) make up Hart's pitching staff, with Kadel being first string.
